Rush of Shopping in Antioch Now in Progress With Merchants Reporting Sales Ahead of 1956, Antioch Post Office Expected to Set Record

Stores Open Evenings Will Close Early on Tuesday Evening

With but four shopping days left before Christmas the tempo of preparation speeded up and the Antioch stores were getting their big share of the business.

While business is spotty, some firms exceeding last year's sales, others were slightly under, but the consensus is that if the last minute rush is up to previous years the total will exceed that of last year.

A barometer of business in Antioch is the post office where the number of special employees during the Christmas rush is equal to that of the regular force.

"We regularly employ 11; now we have 23 at work," said Postmaster Roy Kufalk.

Postmaster Kufalk said that the most of the outgoing mail has been handled and the rush now is on incoming parcels and letters.

Stores in Antioch are open evenings, but will close early next Tuesday to give employees opportunity to spend Christmas eve at home.

The public address system down town in the playing of recorded Christmas music is operated this year by Robert Jensen at his jewelry store. For the 10 years previous it was operated by Morris Pickus from his store.

Antioch has been known as a "last minute" buying town. One merchant explained that shoppers may go elsewhere to look for merchandise, but end up buying the same or better merchandise for less at home.

The Antioch stores had good stock this year and the earlier shoppers had a good selection.

The shopper bus will run on Monday, Dec. 23 next week instead of Tuesday because of Christmas. Thereafter the Tuesday trip will be resumed.

Meanest Thief Steals Scotch Pine Trees off Lawn at Nemec Home

The thief who cut down two trees from a row of Scotch pines at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nemec on Grass Lake road Tuesday will not have a free conscience as he celebrates Christmas.

The trees were 10 feet tall, an exceptionally good height for that variety of pine.

It is probable that the trees were not stolen for self use but to provide a ready sale for the cash they might produce. The loss of the trees spoils the landscaping at the Nemec property.

Driver Whose Truck Ran Wild to Have Hearing on Friday

Repairs are yet to be made to the front window of the Record Nook, 845 Main st., where at 10 a. m. last Thursday a driverless semi-trailer truck crashed.

The proprietor, Mrs. Richard Nuytens, was standing at the counter when she saw a large red truck coming down the hill heading for a brand new Rambler parked in front of her store. The truck struck the passenger car, pushed it aside, and as Mrs. Nuytens sought refuge in the back of the display room, it crashed through the window and came to rest on a display counter.

The driver of the truck owned by the Stone City Transfer Co., told Mrs. Nuytens he parked in front of the Village Hall while he went inside to make a telephone call. The vibration of the motor evidently started the semi-trailer on its way down hill. It caromed off the Methodist church embankment and then whirled toward the Record Nook.

The car it damaged was the property of James Maplethorpe, owner of the Main Garage and dealer in the Hudson-Rambler.

Police Chief Walter Scott arrested the driver, Joseph E. Smith, Joliet, and charged him with parking his truck with the motor running. He will appear before Police Magistrate E. E. Brook tomorrow (Friday).

The two Round Lake couples have contracted to purchase six lots on Rte. 173 now zoned for residential. They would require that only four of the lots be rezoned to B-1, business.

The property is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Burnson of 3593 W. 62nd St., Chicago.

A half dozen spectators attended the hearing in the Village hall. Atty. Clinton O. Thompson represented the petitioners.

Antioch Child Shot Accidentally by Host; Unaware Gun Loaded

Robert Edmonds, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Edmonds, R.F.D. 1, Antioch, was shot in the chest just below the neck Saturday by his 14-year old uncle, Raymond Jensen, of near Libertyville, who thought the gun he pointed at the boy was not loaded.

The pellet lodged near the spine, but hospital authorities say the youngster's condition is good and a surgeon will be able to remove it. He is at Condell Memorial Hospital in Libertyville.

Mrs. Edmonds and her son were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jensen, St. Mary's road north of Rte. 59A where Mr. Jensen is employed as a caretaker of an estate. Young Jensen found in a drawer a 22-caliber pistol belonging to his older brother, Charles, 16.

Robert asked to see the gun and Raymond, not knowing his brother had loaded the gun, pointed it at Robert who sat eight feet away on a bed. Raymond pulled the hammer back and when he released it the gun went off.

The 4-year-old victim was rushed to the hospital by ambulance, where an X-ray picture showed the location of the bullet.

The Workmen Who Never Showed Up

Have you ever figured out just what the federal government costs you—and related the cost of taxation to other costs you must bear?

Publisher Guy T. Ludi of Wahoo Nebraska, has done just that. His paper is a small business, with a circulation of about 4,500. Last year, he finds, the federal government took $6.53 per hour for every hour the plant was in operation. As he puts it, that was equal to the pay of three skilled workmen—"three skilled workmen that never showed up for work."

Then Mr. Ludi did some more calculating. His federal taxes came to over $260 in cash each week, and amounted to nine cents out of every dollar taken in, whether or not a profit was made on the transaction. And those taxes took enough money out of the plant to pay for any one of the following: heat for 22 years; postage for 9 years; electric lights for 32 years; water for 103 years; electric power for 9 years; electric heat for the typesetting machines for 22 years; telephone for 21 years, and insurance for 15 years.

That, Mr. Ludi goes on, brings up the big question: "... what are we going to do about it?" Here's his answer: "We don't know. We know that spending by government is too high ... that taxes are too high and going higher. ... Actually, we would propose that tax-conscious people everywhere seriously consider the problem before the next primary election in 1958. At that time something can be done if everyone will crack down on the spenders in Washington."

Economic Highlights

"Monopoly power may be described as the possession of power by an individual or a group to control the supply and fix the price of needed goods and services. On this basis, there can be no doubt that certain international unions possess monopoly powers in some of the basic industries of the United States. They virtually control the labor supply of these industries and have proved on many occasions their ability to dictate the terms on which the services of labor are available to produce the goods and services the nation needs."

That is the first paragraph of a pamphlet entitled "Monopoly Power As Exercised by Labor Unions", which has been issued by the National Association of Manufacturers, and is the result of a year's study by a group of labor-management experts under the chairmanship of Leo Wolman, the distinguished Columbia University teacher and writer. It is a work which is of unusual interest now, in the light of the greatly aroused public interest in labor problems and policies.

The pamphlet's thesis is that the power of the unions is virtually without legal restraint, that this is something that was never intended by Congress, and that it has come about largely as a result of a series of judicial and administrative decisions. A principal cause of union monopoly power, it argues, is that the labor unions have become immune from legal responsibilities to which everyone else is subject—notably, the anti-trust laws. To take a specific example, these laws hold that group boycotts by businessmen are restraints of trade and hence illegal. But the unions can and do demand and obtain contracts under which non-union employers are boycotted. And, the pamphlet goes on, the unions freely divide territories and restrict business competition—something which businessmen cannot do on pain of severe penalties at the hands of the law.

The pamphlet describes a number of specific cases in which, in the opinion of its authors, the unions, with impunity, have successfully followed courses of action that would be plainly illegal if followed by other groups. Such exercises of monopoly power fall into a number of classifications. These include: restraints of trade and price fixing; dividing territory; regional monopolies; banning of new products or processes; featherbedding; restricting competition; deliberately keeping the labor supply short; jurisdictional strikes and boycotts; coercion and compulsion of workers. It quotes Leslie Velie, a well-known student of labor affairs, as saying: "The International's dodges to enslave rank-and-file are as ruthless as they are varied. ... Virtually none (of the union constitutions) have even a rudimentary bill of rights to protect members."

The pamphlet ends by listing a series of objectives which, it says, must be sought in order to protect the public and the workers. The main points include real bargaining at the local level; an end to compulsory union membership in any form; bans on boycotts, on featherbedding, and refusal to allow new machines or processes; and a prohibition against the use of union funds and union staff employees for partisan political purposes. The big goal, as the authors of this work see it, is to bring about recognition "... that responsibility goes hand in hand with authority and reverence for individual rights goes hand in hand with power."

Pharmacist at Work

A major outpost of medicine today is the counter of the drug store. And the man standing vigil behind that counter wears the white jacket of the retail pharmacist.

For, if the plant of the pharmaceutical manufacturer is the arsenal, if clinics and hospitals are the proving grounds, if the physician is the strategist and tactician, it is the pharmacist who has the widest and most immediate opportunity to spread the news.

The National Pharmaceutical Council estimates that on an average, more than 400 people visit each of the 51,000 drug stores every day—a total of 21,000,000 with whom the pharmacist has personal contact on behalf of the medical team.

More and more, the public service role of the pharmacist depends not so much upon what he does as upon what he knows.

Of the millions who visit American drug stores each year, a vast number are seeking information and help. Their questions attest the respect in which the pharmacist is held—a respect confirmed by Health Information Foundation in one of its attitude surveys. Among professional men, the pharmacist ranks high in general esteem.

And if his customers ask questions, the pharmacist must know the answers. How? By assimilating and remembering facts about new drugs and medicals which reach the market at the rate of 400 and more each year. By filling prescriptions. By stocking and supplying the many valuable proprietary items. By reassuring the suffering patient, or worried mother. And by directing those who need medical care to the physician.

Before the age of modern drugs, the physician prescribed, and the pharmacist compounded, a potpourri of pellets in a single pill in the hope that one of them might come close to the target. Today powerful drugs head straight for the bull's-eye of a specific disease—and such is their potency that the pharmacist, as well as the physician, needs to know all the facts about dosages, reactions, side reactions and effects.

The retail pharmacist does more than merely dispense and deliver. He gives warnings and information when it's appropriate. If the preparation is one that deteriorates with exposure to sunlight, he says so. If there is a warning on the label, he points it out. If the patient is concerned about possible effects, he reassures him.

Aliens Must Report Their Addresses in Jan.

District Director Robert H. Robinson of the Immigration and Naturalization Service stated that the annual alien address report program usually causes a sharp rise in the number of applications for naturalization.

The law requires all aliens in the United States, with few exceptions, to report their address each January. Throughout the United States, almost thirty per cent more applications for naturalization are received during the months of January, February and March than are received during other months. Mr. Robinson attributes this sudden rise to the Alien Address Report Program.

Aliens not required to make this report are diplomats, those accredited to certain international organizations and those who have entered temporarily as agricultural laborers.

Forms for making the reports will be available to aliens at all Post Offices and offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service during the month of January. Mr. Robinson indicated that aliens desiring information concerning naturalization or similar matters should obtain the forms at an office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service where personnel trained in these fields will be available to answer inquiries.

More than 5,000 scientists and engineers and some $250 million are involved in the International Geophysical Year investigations.

Early Detection, Not Age, Important In Cancer Cases

NEW YORK—Early detection of cancer can often lead to successful treatment or at least to substantial relief even in persons of advanced age, it is emphasized by the Insurance Company statisticians.

Periodic health examinations of the elderly are a practical means of early detection, the company points out, adding that educational measures suitable to persons in later life should be devised to make these people aware of the danger signals that may mean the presence of cancer.

Cancer ranks among the foremost problems of geriatric medicine, the Metropolitan statisticians point out. In 1956 there were more than 120,000 cancer deaths in the United States among persons at ages 65 and over. In that age group, cancer as a cause of death is outranked only by heart disease and cerebral hemorrhage, and accounts for about 15 per cent of the total mortality in this group.

The statisticians estimate that at present there are about 365,000 new cases of cancer each year among persons over 65, and that one in every four persons reaching that age will eventually develop cancer. In the course of a year, there is one new case of cancer among every 65 men at ages 65-69; the proportion is one in 33 at ages 85 and over. Among women, the corresponding rise is from one case in every 80 to one in every 44.

Permanent Pleats For Men's Pants

NEW YORK—Development of a process to produce permanent pleats in all-wool dresses and skirts and permanent knife-sharp creases in men's all-wool trousers which will not come out in the rain, warm soapy water or dry cleaning was announced from Australia today through the Wool Bureau in New York.

Developed in the Geelong, Victoria, laboratories of the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organization, the process, patented in Australia, is known as "SI-RO-SET." It has proved successful in tests in several Australian apparel factories and in actual wear trials and is now being licensed to approved firms in that country.

In the process, the garment is sprayed with a weak chemical solution just before the final pressing. The crease is then fixed by steam pressing for 15 seconds. Completely safe for factory application, the process is described as having "no damaging effects on wool and producing pleats and creases that last indefinitely."

Health Insurance Payments Increasing

NEW YORK—Benefit payments to Americans covered by voluntary health insurance through insurance company policies were 15% higher during the first nine months of 1957 than for the same period the year before, the Health Insurance Institute announced. Reports from the nation's insurance companies showed that from January 1 through September 30, 1957, an estimated $1.8 billion had been paid to help pay hospital and doctor bills and to replace income lost because of accident or sickness.

Benefits paid under group health insurance policies covering hospital, surgical and medical care and loss of income totaled $1.3 billion by the end of the third quarter, an increase of 20% over the same period for 1956, while the rise in benefits under individual and family type policies was over $469 million, an increase of 4%.

Tomato of the Future Resists All Diseases

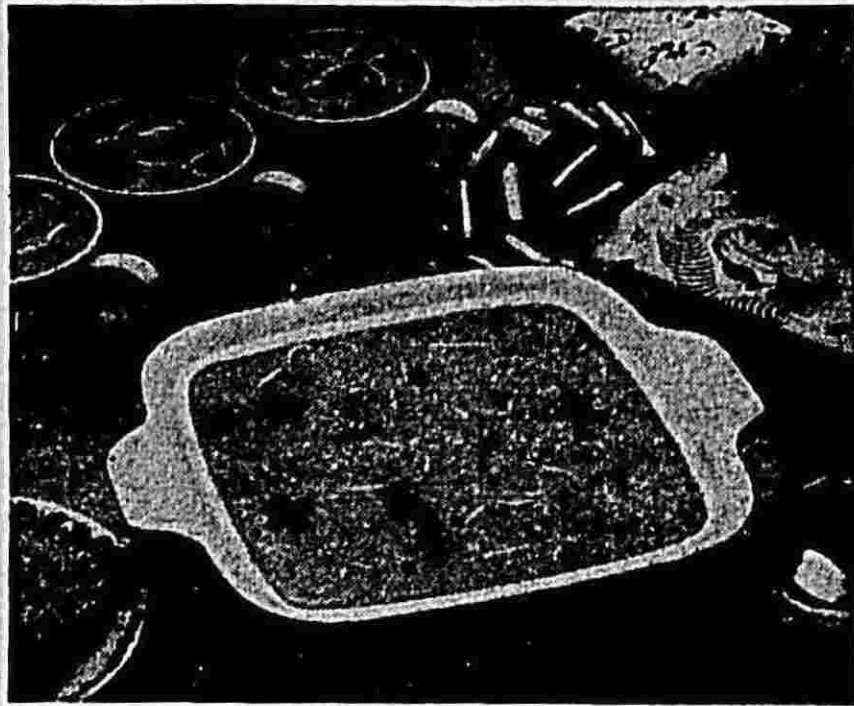

RIVERSIDE—University of California plant breeders are making progress toward their goal of developing a tomato with built-in resistance to tobacco mosaic, nematodes, verticillium wilt and fusarium wilt.

By wrapping these four kinds of resistance into a single package, thousands of dollars in crop losses can be prevented annually, according to Robert K. Soost, plant geneticist on the University's Riverside campus.

Working with a hybrid of wild South American tomatoes produced by researchers at the Hawaii Agricultural Station, Soost found that it was resistant to tobacco mosaic; neither symptoms nor the virus appears in inoculated plants. He found the resistance to be due to a single dominant gene.

Christmas Snack Buffet for the Family

EVERYTHING'S a' bustle. The record player sounds forth with strains from "Joy to the World"; each member of the family is hustling about, busily tying up the last minute packages; and the phone rings with invitations to "drop by for a buffet."

With it all, it's snack time. "Time for a bit of something to hold us over, Mom!" A real challenge to the kitchen staffers... but a smart Mom has a secret up her sleeve at all times. And now she spills it (the secret of course).

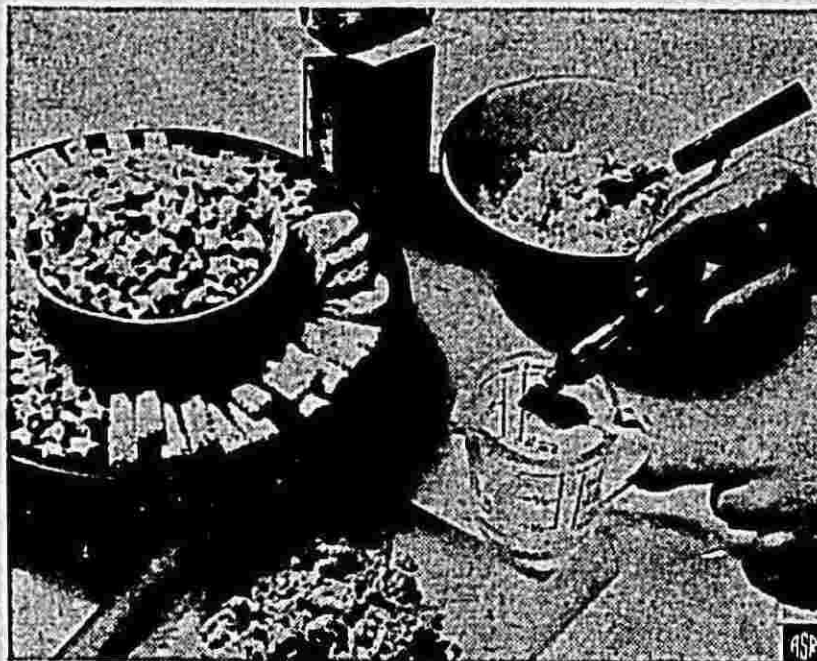

In less time than it takes Santa to tumble down the chimney, the table is set for the snack with a large bowl or tureen of soup. This one with a party-beat look is just right to fill the empty tumblers.

SNACK-TIME TUREEN is a combination of 3 soups, good to look at and good to eat. Accompany the soup with a selection of crisp crackers and your favorite cheese.

Snack-Time Tureen
1 can (11½ ounces) condensed bean with bacon soup
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed beef noodle soup
1 can (10½ ounces) cream of celery soup
2 soup cans water
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
In a saucepan, blend soups and water. Add parsley and Worcestershire sauce; heat. 6 to 8 servings.

Piquant Pastries For Parties

Tabasco and grated cheese added to packaged pastry mix results in the season's best-tasting cocktail fare! Easy to do, and you're assured of crisp, warm nibbling food for your guests, so good that you need serve little else.

Tabasco, one of the oldest food products in the land, (it "came out" shortly after the Civil War!) is still one of the best friends of every food. Does wonders for eggs, for meat dishes of every description, for white sauces and gravies.

Keep the bright little bottle handy, and measure out the proper amount of drops, so that you'll be sure of using enough to impart the delicate flavor and zest for which this liquid pepper seasoning is so famous.

Tabasco Cheese Straws
1 package pie crust mix 1 cup grated sharp American cheese
½ teaspoon Tabasco

Turn pie crust mix into mixing bowl; add cheese. Mix with 2 forks until cheese is evenly distributed throughout mixture. Add Tabasco to water called for in package directions. Stir into mixture with a fork. Form into ball. Roll out 1/16-inch thick on lightly floured board or pastry cloth. Cut out with small star or other small cutter, or roll with pastry wheel into strips 3 inches long and ¼-inch wide. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet in a moderate oven, (375° F.) 5 to 7 minutes for small shapes and 10 minutes for strips.

NOTE: If desired, form all or half of dough into a roll, 1½ inches in diameter. Place in freezer 1 hour or in refrigerator 2 hours, or until firm enough to slice. Cut into 1/16-inch slices. Place on greased baking sheet; if desired, sprinkle with paprika. Bake in a moderate oven, (375° F.) 5 to 7 minutes.

Ham Fancy

A touch of red and a bit of green sets the mood for a Yuletide table setting. A handsome smoked ham attracts fascinated viewers when decked out in its fashionable, festive attire... pimlement stars and sprigs of bright green parsley.

There's no need to announce a Christmas dinner. The homemaker will have all she can do to get the festive food array past the admiring glances of the family members and on the table.

Reba Staggs, meat expert, suggests how to prepare a delicious, smoked ham for the holiday feast.

Simply purchase a 12 to 14-pound ham... make it a point to plan on leftovers. Leftover ham dishes are numerous and watch the men ask for seconds.

Place the ham, fat side up, on a rack in an open roasting pan. Do not add water or cover the roast. Bake the ham in a 300° F. oven... if roasting a fresh pork cut, use a 350° F. oven. Allow 18 to 20 minutes per pound if roasting (baking) a whole ham or 22 to 25 minutes for a half ham.

A decoration or glaze gives this meat cut a "note of distinction." The glaze, either honey, brown sugar or fruit or a combination of these, is applied about 30 minutes before the ham is done. After the glaze is applied, the ham is returned to the 300° F. oven to finishing cooking and to allow the glaze to set.

Navy League Backs Science Program for Young Enlisted Men

The Lake County Council of the Navy League today announced that it is participating in the organization's nation wide effort to support the recently inaugurated Navy Program to give science training and commissions to young enlisted men in the service.

The program, as announced by the Secretary of the Navy, Thomas S. Gates, in Washington last week, provides for tuition-free education in colleges throughout the country for 500 Navy enlisted men each year. The Navy men will be given four-year courses leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science, and will be commissioned ensigns upon graduation.

At the same time, the Navy announced that it is revising its NR-OTC curricula to place greater emphasis on mathematics and the physical sciences.

"In these times when every able bodied young American must face the almost certain obligation of spending some time on active military service, this Program offers a challenging opportunity to those who take advantage of it," said Leo I. Poret, Waukegan, president of the local Navy League Council. "We of the Navy League feel it is our duty to see to it that young men of high school age are made aware of these two opportunities to participate in the Navy Science program. To that end we plan to lend our efforts to 'passing the word' to all high school students and to the teen-age Navy Buddy Program."

Poret pointed out that to stand a better chance for selection under the Navy's new Science Program, students should take as much mathematics and sciences as possible during their high school years.

"While the Program is intended to give the Navy 500 new science-trained Officers each year, it has a real 'extra dividend,' for those who are selected," Poret pointed out.

"Those who elect to return to civilian life after completion of the necessary service requirement will be academically qualified for technical and managerial jobs in industry. This adds a greatly needed pool of such men to the industrial might of our country."

Tonsils Are Not A Mistake of Nature

A tendency to sore throats does not mean the tonsils have to be removed; that is, unless they are infected so badly that they are no longer able to perform their important function. Every once in a while it is discovered some part of the body can be removed without any apparent damage resulting. The parts removed are classified as a sort of error committed by nature. But nature makes no mistakes, and it is soon realized there was a function for the removed organs. The reason sometimes given is that it is "preventive"—the type of logic which suggests the amputation of a hand because a finger might some day be infected.

We now know the tonsils have a definite and most important function. They are throat filters and are guardians of the respiratory system and the body. There is a clear connection between the sudden, enormous rise in the number of children stricken with polio, and the over-all increase in polio cases. Polio, which was once not nearly so prevalent as it is today, rapidly became a nation-wide epidemic and disaster, following the wholesale removal of children's tonsils.

In "The Doctor's Dilemma," by the famous playwright, George Bernard Shaw, the theme concerns the discovery of a tiny organ in the human body which it becomes "fashionable" to remove because its function is unknown. Actually, this was the appendix, and the first operation of this kind was performed on King Edward VII, of England. The operation became fashionable and the nobility didn't "belong" if they retained their appendices.

Tonsils are an important part of the lymphatic system. They help to guard major portals from infection. Since chiropractic can restore normal function in most instances, tonsils should be removed only as a last resort.

CHECK FOR LEAKING MUFFLER

Holes form in the muffler and exhaust pipe of any car sooner or later. Moisture, exhaust gases, and salt used to control ice and snow on streets, all contribute to the damage to these parts. Replace any leaking muffler or exhaust pipe at once for safety. You often can tell that repairs are needed by the sound, but periodic visual checks are better. Leaks can bring carbon monoxide, an odorless, poisonous gas into your car and cause unconsciousness or death.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

Next week, the nation will celebrate the New Year of 1958. There will be the numerous resolutions made in good faith, but not always carried out. It would be a good time for all of us to resolve to attempt to be better drivers in the forthcoming year.

LET'S ALL BE BETTER DRIVERS IN 1958

Perhaps you occasionally find yourself getting into a "rush-hour hurry," either going to or returning from work. The result is that you will find yourself weaving in and out of traffic. Next year, why not make sure that you leave for your destination with plenty of time to spare in the event you get tied up in traffic. And, if you do find yourself running behind schedule, remember that it will be far better to arrive safely, than to take any chances in traffic which may result in injury or death to you and others.

Along this same line, be patient when behind a steering wheel. Do not "fly off the handle" if another driver cuts sharply in front of you or performs some other form of dangerous driving habits. If you don't control your anger, you'll just be inviting disaster...

A look at the personnel records of industrial plants will show that an enormous amount of disability and loss of time can be traced directly to the common cold.

The absentee problem is particularly critical at an industrial plant doing important military research, as does the Aerojet-General Corporation in Sacramento, Calif.

Since there is no cure for the common cold, Dr. A. L. Kuntz, Aerojet-General's plant physician, studied the possibility of lessening absenteeism by relieving cold symptoms. In this way, perhaps, employees could be kept comfortable and "in working condition" despite their colds.

Altogether 724 employees at both indoor and outdoor jobs were studied. When these workers came down with a common cold, they were given Coryban, a combination of tested drugs specifically aimed at cold symptoms. The patients received two capsules of Coryban at the onset, followed by one capsule every four hours.

Dr. Kuntz found that 83 per cent of the workers were helped by this course of treatment. Most of the employees said they felt much better and any remaining symptoms did not interfere with their jobs. Others who obtained less marked relief nevertheless felt they would not have been able to work without the medication.

Such symptomatic relief, described by Dr. Kuntz as "excellent," will give the country's factories, schools and businesses many added days of progress that might have been spent uncomfortably and unprofitably—in bed.

Household Hints

by JEAN TAYLOR

Grandma was right. To this day, one of the best known ways to clean copper and brass is with a cut lemon sprinkled with salt. (Rinse thoroughly.)

A copper bottom is especially useful on frying pans. Copper spreads the heat around better than any other metal except silver.

Cooker foods evenly, helps avoid scorching, and saves on fuel.

Check those labels. Copper or brass "finished" means copper or brass "plated." So if it's solid metal you're after, ask.

Avoid using steel wool on copper items in the home. Steel particles can become imbedded in the item... Unlike copper, steel will rust and leave stains.

Thank the ank. That's the symbol first used by ancient alchemists to indicate copper.

Today used by reputable manufacturers on products made of solid, rather than plated, copper and brass.

To protect metal pieces from tarnishing, spray on some lacquer from a push-button can. Or, if you have some automobile wax handy, use that instead.

We would see more if we had eyes like a bird's. A bird has two keen-vision patches in each eye rather than one circular retina as we do, according to the Murine Company feature service. One pair of keen-vision patches provides straight ahead vision, while the other gives sideways vision. Thus a bird can look straight ahead, to the right, and to the left—seeing clearly in all directions.

N. Ill. Gas Co. Issues 22,700 Gas Permits

Northern Illinois Gas Company has reported to the Illinois Commerce Commission that letters are being mailed this week to approximately 22,700 customers authorizing them to use natural gas for residential space heating.

The current release covers all customers who had applied for this service on or before February 21, 1955 for existing homes (homes occupied when applications were made), and on or before April 17, 1955 for individual new homes (homes not occupied on date when applications were made).

In accordance with the gas restriction order under which the company is operating, gas heat authorizations are issued only for single family dwellings. Permits must be acted on within 12 months.

According to Marvin Chandler, Northern Illinois Gas president, the current space heat release results from the utility's continuing study of its natural gas supply and requirements. The study now indicates that a sufficient amount of gas will be available on the coldest days to serve the new gas heat customers as well as the more than 240,000 who now heat their homes with gas in the utility's 20-county service area.

He said this action is indicative "We haven't been idle in our effort to make gas heat available as soon as possible to customers on its waiting list. Following this release about 110,000 still remain on the list."

Chandler is hopeful that the plans of Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America to increase the daily supply to this area will soon get Federal Power Commission approval and clearance of other legal obstacles. If these are obtained promptly, Northern Illinois Gas can look forward to receiving a 45 per cent additional daily pipeline supply some time during the 1958-59 heating season. At that time, most of those now remaining on the company's waiting list will receive gas heat authorizations.

"While our gas heat waiting list has been a problem to our customers and us for ten years," he stated, "We haven't been idle in our efforts to connect residential gas heat customers. Actually, more than 200,000 have been added to our system during the past decade. At the present time about 43 per cent of our residential customers use natural gas for heating."

Chandler added that the limitation order for residential customers applies only to space heating, and that sufficient natural gas is available for the other major household uses including cooking, water heating, refrigeration, clothes drying, incineration and summer air conditioning.

Your Home

By Frances Ainsworth

Imagine me — watching the morning television movie on cleaning day, with the cleaning all finished! Well, I did last week thanks to a wonderful anniversary present that makes cleaning easier, faster and helps to do a better job.

The gift is a new convertible cleaner with a 2 speed motor and an automatic shift. Why, it's actually two cleaners in one: first, it's a superior vacuum cleaner that whisks over your carpets and pulls every speck of dust and dirt as it beats, sweeps and cleans. Secondly, it's a straight suction hose cleaner for walls, woodwork, blinds and countless other dust-problem spots. When your carpets are finished all you do is click in the converter and the big motor automatically shifts into high to give you 50% more cleaning power than ever before. Imagine! The cleaner follows you around the house, and then there's the exclusive double stretch hose that makes it simple to get to hard to reach spots, like mouldings, or into book-cases.

I'm really thrilled with my new work-saver. It's made by Hoover — always my guide to the best in appliances. Anything that makes housework easier is really worth looking into, isn't it?

National Symbol

The Statue of Liberty symbol of America to billions of people, was erected in 1884 and is the first landmark visitors see when entering New York harbor. Though made of copper only one thirty-second of an inch thick, the statue is as sturdy as the day it was built.

Antioch Defeats Round Lake, Ela-Vernon, To Play Grant Bull Dogs Here Friday Night

The Antioch Sequoits will take on the Grant Bull Dogs, Northwest Conference champions here tomorrow (Friday) night in what promises to be a hard fought game.

Fresh from two victories, one over Ela-Vernon here Friday night 53 to 39, and Round Lake there Saturday night 74 to 50, the Sequoits gave evidence of hitting their stride, but they still have their work cut out for them in the game with Grant.

Both Grant and Antioch have won three games in conference play and tomorrow's game will go a long way toward testing the ability of the two teams. The Bull Dogs are given a slight edge because of their greater margin of victory over teams Antioch has defeated.

Antioch's starting lineup will be Art Hanke and Jerry Dittmer, forwards; Wayne Herbst, center; Pat Roach and Dick Behrens, guards. This is the same lineup used in the Round Lake game.

The Round Lake Panthers started out in Saturday's game as if they were going to defeat the Sequoits. They had a lead of 22-19 at the end of the first quarter, but at that point the Sequoits started their full court press which not only put them ahead but prevented the Panthers getting a single field goal in the second quarter and only two in the third.

Art Hanke was hot, hitting many of his fields goals from a distance of 35 feet and chalking up a total of 27 points. Wayne Herbst played his usual good game and scored 22 points. He also held high scoring Dick Hanson to four field goals and a total of 10 points. Jerry Dittmer, 6-4 1/2 senior center, was very effective for the Sequoits at the boards.

High Point men for Round Lake were the two guards, Len Johnson, and Henry Olson.

Antioch 53, Ela-V. 39

The Ela-Vernon Bears tagged the Sequoits through three quarters on Friday night's game here, but succumbed in the fourth quarter.

Antioch led 19-14 at the half and was ahead 32-28 going into the final quarter. Then they wrapped the game up with 10 straight points in which Dick Behrens contributed two fields goals. Art Hanke sank a field goal and two free throws and Wayne Herbst tossed in a pair of free ones. Antioch then controlled the ball for the last 2 1/2 minutes of the game.

Wayne Herbst was high point man with 26 points. Art Hanke and Jerry Dittmer both gave a good account of themselves around the boards.

Contact lenses are far from a recent development. A similar idea was first recorded in 1508 by Leonardo da Vinci; and in 1887 a German, F. E. Mueller, and a Swiss, Dr. A. E. Fick, both had contact lenses made of blown glass.

The Antioch News and Lakes Theatre invite William R. Carrick, Rte. 2, Box 245, Antioch, and one to attend Friday, Saturday or Sunday showing of "Dragstrip Girl" and "Rock All Night."

More persons die during November from accidents involving firearms than during any other month.

Record Response To Family Policy Plans Indicated

NEW YORK—The family life insurance policy, combining protection for all members of the family under a single contract, has proven one of the most revolutionary marketing developments in life insurance history. By year-end, it was purchased by well over a million American families, reports the Institute of Life Insurance, with many billions of insurance protection thus set up.

With an average family policy of over $9,000, covering an average of about four members in each family, this means that millions of individuals are included in these new plans.

According to the Institute, the family policy is now being written by over 60 life insurance companies, including most of the larger companies. More than 100 companies are expected to be writing it by the end of the year. Currently, many companies are reporting that a high percentage of their ordinary life insurance sold is on the family plan. In some companies nearly half of the new business is on this plan.

Most companies have developed special features in their family plan but the average policy provides a whole life plan on the head of the household with convertible term arranged for the wife and children. The policy is generally available to husbands between the ages of 18 and 50 and the wife must usually be between 12 years younger and 7 years older. Children are commonly eligible from the ages of 15 days to 18 years.

Business Outlook Not Discouraging

CHICAGO—In times of economic uncertainty as at present, it is more important for the country to remind itself of its strengths, rather than dwell on its weaknesses, one of the nation's top economists says.

The economist — Arthur M. Welmer, Dean of the Indiana University School of Business—expressed this view at the Annual Convention of the United States Savings and Loan League.

Decriing "the field day" which pessimists were now enjoying in predicting an "approaching decline in business activity, Welmer said he personally would not consider the business outlook as being discouraging.

"The outlook is good," he said, "if by this we mean a period of relatively stable business conditions, of stable prices, of greater output per man hour, of higher real incomes and of a competitive situation."

Latin America Wants Our Understanding

LOS ANGELES—If the United States should decide to shower Latin America with bouquets, then we'd better choose forget-me-nots.

So advises Dr. Robert N. Burr, associate professor of history at the University of California, Los Angeles, who returned from a seven-month tour of South America as a recipient of an Eisenhower Exchange Fellowship.

Dr. Burr, who visited every country in South America except Bolivia, questioned countless South American businessmen, government officials and journalists, as well as U. S. citizens in South America, on the attitude of our Latin neighbors toward the U. S. foreign policies.

"The common denominator of most of the answers and opinions," Dr. Burr said, "was a desire for the U. S. to acknowledge the importance of Latin America; to show a continuing interest in them, and an understanding of their problems."

Russ Moon's Orbit

Affects Our Economy

LOS ANGELES—Russia's man-made moon may have forestalled an economic recession in the United States in 1958, according to Dr. Frank E. Norton, associate professor of business economics at the University of California, Los Angeles.

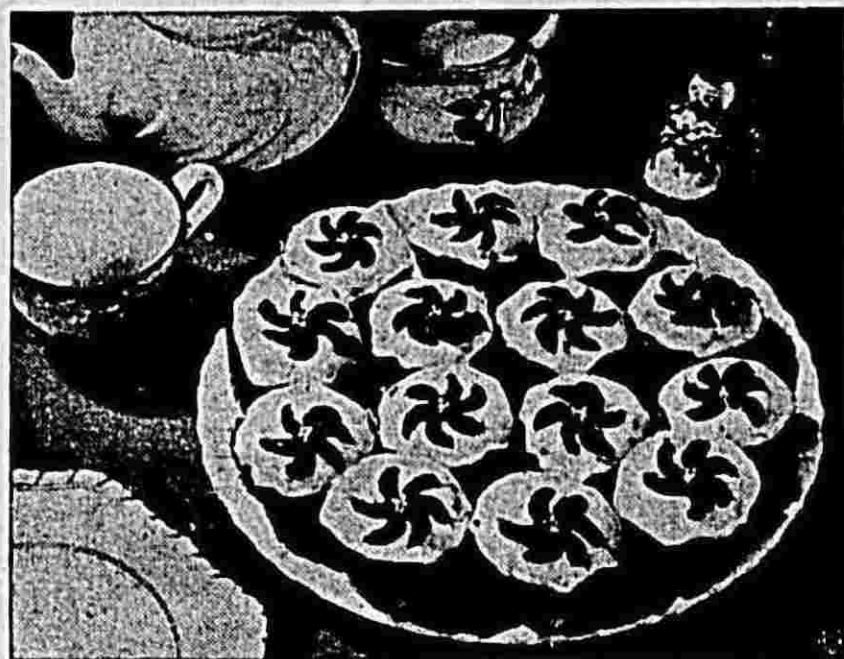

Dr. Norton thinks that the launching of Sputnik came just in time to prevent a drastic slash in military spending that was widely predicted by top Federal budget officials.

Such a slash, on top of the rapid slackening of the two-year investment boom in industrial plants and equipment, might well have created a sizeable recession during the coming year, he thinks.

Territories

WASHINGTON—Rio de Janeiro, like Washington, D. C., is located in a special territorial unit called the Federal District. Curiously, Rio's city government includes a Department of Agriculture because many of the district's 450 square miles are given over to forest land and farms.

Bake For Holiday Entertaining

During the holidays, "drop in" guests may appear at the most unexpected times. You can be prepared by having a generous supply of your own baked specialties on hand to serve.

Pretty poinsettia cupcakes are geared to the season and will win many compliments for their delectable flavor. Delight your callers with Cranberry Cupcakes topped with an easy confectioner's sugar frosting decorated with gray poinsettias. The poinsettias may be made with red maraschino cherry slices arranged to form petals, and tiny silver maces, the little silver balls used for cake decorating, arranged for the center stamen.

For best results in baking conventional cakes and cupcakes, choose a pure-white, blended shortening that has superior baking qualities. An all-purpose shortening that gives you smokeless frying in addition to professional baking results is a good choice.

CRANBERRY CUPCAKES

Yield: 36 medium cupcakes

1/2 cup Jewel Shortening	1 teaspoon salt
1 cup brown sugar, packed	1/2 cup sour milk or buttermilk
2 eggs	1 1/2 cups whole cranberry sauce
3 cups sifted cake flour	1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon soda	1 cup chopped nuts
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg

Cream shortening and brown sugar. Add eggs and mix well. Sift dry ingredients together and add alternately with the sour milk. Add cranberry sauce, lemon juice and nuts. Blend thoroughly. Rub muffin pans with shortening or use paper liners. Fill about 2/3 full. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 20 minutes.

Apples Add Flavor To Baked Spareribs

This is the time of year when spareribs are fine eating—a delicious roast for a cold night. And when you add this new apple-flavoring stuffing, you add the gourmet touch making spareribs a superb dinner dish. Bake twice the recipe in large pans for a church supper or big buffet party; cut roast ribs and stuffing in small pieces—many guests like to eat spareribs from their fingers. The apple stuffing is delicious in a crown roast of pork chops, too.

APPLE-STUFFED SPARERIBS

1 pkg. prepared bread stuffing	1/4 teaspoon each powdered mace, sage, nutmeg and cloves
1/2 cup chopped onions	2 matching racks of spareribs
2 cups chopped apples

Prepare stuffing as directed on package, adding onions, apples and spices; mix well. Spread on 1 rack of spareribs; top with second rack; tie together securely with white string. Put in roasting pan with 1/2 cup hot water; cover. Roast in moderate oven, 350°, about 3 hours or until thoroughly done. Remove cover during last hour of roasting. Makes 8 generous servings.

Pancake Cut-Ups Hot Off The Griddle

PANCAKES can be real fun! They can be made to look like chickens. Like rabbits. Like gingerbread-men. In fact, they can look like anything that comes in a cookie cutter form—for that's the secret.

To make animal pancakes, follow the recipe for thin pancakes which appears on the bright plaid package of the new improved Duncan Hines Buttermilk Pancake Mix. Grease the cutting edges of cookie cutters and place them on a hot griddle. Pour in the pancake mixture sparingly, just covering the inside area of each figure. When the pancakes bubble, lift the cutters off and turn the pancakes. A few raisins for eyes and mouths will add personality to the faces and delight the small fry.

Fundy's Tides Are Mighty

HIGH AND DRY are these ships in Market Slip at Saint John, New Brunswick, Canada, when the mighty Fundy tide is out. One hundred billion tons of salt water surges through the rocky portals of the Bay of Fundy every 12 hours and 25 minutes, affecting the Bay ports of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. One of the most startling sights along the coast is ships high and dry in the morning and afloat 12 hours later. Normal tide in the Bay of Fundy is about 40 feet; the highest in the world and the mightiest manifestation of the moon's strange pull on the oceans.

Scenes From Everyman
On Channel 11 Monday

Significant scenes from the Salzburg "Everyman" will be telecast on WTTW-Channel 11, 7 p. m. Monday, Dec. 23.

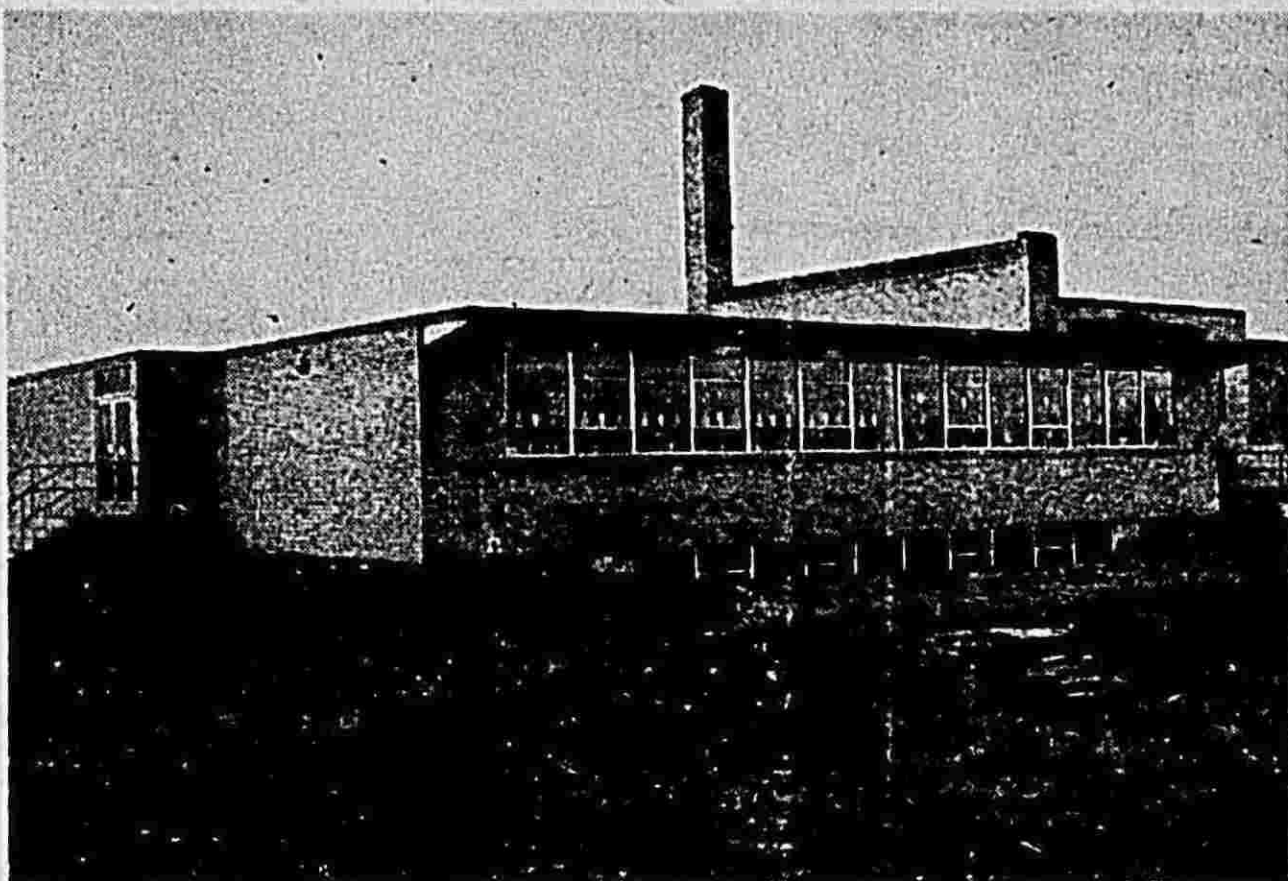

The entire poetic drama by Hugo von Hofmannsthal, played each year at the Salzburg Festival, and translated into English by John Reich, is currently being staged by the Goodman Memorial Theatre, with Donald Buka as star.

Mr. Buka, remaining in town after the Goodman run long enough to do the telecast, will play the thematic scenes from the play with his supporting cast.

Dr. Reich, director of the production as well as translator, is director of the Goodman Memorial Theatre.

The play is based on a mediaeval folk allegory depicting Everyman, a selfish young man who is summoned by Death to his Judgment, and encounters the friends and enemies in his life.

Navy in Washington
Seeks Stenographers

A wonderful opportunity to work in the nation's capital and to start a career with the Federal service is offered now to young people in this area who can write shorthand, it was announced today by Miss Louise Antonou, Navy Civilian Representative, from Washington, D. C.

Miss Antonou will be interviewing and testing applicants for stenographic positions located in Navy office in Washington, D. C. The positions, under civil service, have base entrance salaries of $285 a month, and they carry liberal vacations, sick leave benefits, excellent promotional possibilities, automatic salary increases, Government life insurance, and unusual educational and recreational opportunities. The Navy Department guarantees housing upon arrival in Washington.

When questioned as to how the Department of Defense's recent cutback affects her recruitment activities, Miss Antonou explained that there is still a shortage of stenographers in the labor market and it is necessary for the Navy to recruit qualified stenographers to fill positions regarded as essential. For further information, contact Miss Antonou at the Navy Recruiting Station, Post Office Building, Room 208, Madison, Wis., from Dec. 5 through Dec. 20, Telephone Alpine 6-1834.

Senior Class Formal Dance
Saturday at Antioch High

Schools, Churches.....

Many Christmas parties have been held during the past week and will continue up to Christmas, but the outstanding event of the community will be the Christmas formal dance, sponsored by the Senior class to be held from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. Saturday, at the school gym. This year's formal is entitled "Mistletoe Magic," and the highlight of the evening—a part of the magic—will be the crowning of the king and queen and the presentation of her court.

The royal pair and their attendants have not been announced, adding suspense and mystery to the dance.

The 11-piece orchestra of Will Jones and a vocalist will provide the music.

Young and old are invited to attend for a nominal fee, and tickets will be on sale at the dance or from any senior class member.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rudolph of Tiffany Road were called to Chicago, Tuesday due to the sudden death of Mrs. Rudolph's mother, Mrs. Eva Konertz. Funeral services will be held in Chicago Friday.

Many Drivers Retain 1957 License Numbers

Springfield, Ill.—More than 300,000 Illinois motorists took advantage of the state's reassignment law to retain their 1957 automobile license numbers for 1958, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter said today.

The law requires the Secretary of State to re-assign the current year's number for the next year when the applicant applies before October 31 and requests that the number be assigned to him again.

For the one, two, three and four digit numbers, re-assignment runs as high as 98 per cent, meaning that only about 250 numbers from 1 to 10,000 become available for assignment to persons other than those holding them currently, Secretary Carpenter said.

For those 250 numbers, more than 2,500 requests were received this year, Mr. Carpenter said. Consequently, he pointed out, less than one out of ten requests for one, two, three and four digit numbers could be filled.

Total requests for special assignment of numbers of all varieties—including low ones, high ones, numbers incorporating addresses, telephone numbers, birthdates, wedding dates, poker combinations, numbers ending in three zeros, repeats (531-531), reverses (531-135) and all others—amounted to about 300,000, Secretary Carpenter said.

Beyond 10,000, re-assignment still accounts for about 95 per cent of the lower five-digit numbers and drops to about 85 per cent for the higher ones, Mr. Carpenter said.

When six-digit numbers are reached the re-assignment percentage drops to about 70 for the first 100,000 and drops sharply to 30 per cent by the time 200,000 is reached, Secretary Carpenter said.

YEAR END TAX TIPS More Tax-Saving Deductions And How To Time Them

This is one of a series of four articles on federal income taxes. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Illinois Society of Certified Public Accountants.

If you are one of those individual taxpayers who is constantly being collared and dollored for charitable contributions, you may save money by paying particular attention to the timing and planning of your year-end donations.

Before paying-off on any more 1957 pledges you might have made, remember that you will not receive a tax credit for your charitable contributions unless you itemize deductions on your return. You can't take the standard 10-per cent deduction and a special deduction for donations to charity. You may take only one or the other; so plan your year-end pledge payments accordingly.

Planning Charitable Gifts

If you will be forced to take the standard 10-per cent deduction this year, your best tax move would be to defer payment on your outstanding pledges until after January 1, pyramiding them into 1958 when you may be able to itemize deductions. However, if you have had a better-than-average income year and are trying to bunch itemized deductions on this year's return, you should pay not only the pledges you have made but possibly the pledges you would ordinarily make in early 1958.

Here is an important point to keep in mind as you plan your year-end pledge payments: a charitable contribution will be considered paid—and therefore deductible—in the year when the check is delivered to the charity and not when it is actually cashed.

Property Donations

A gift does not have to be in cash to entitle you to a charitable deduction. It can be in property, and since you can claim a deduction for the full market value of a property gift, it may actually pay you to give away items that are now worth more than their cost.

For example, suppose that you own a few shares of stock that cost you $100 a few years ago. Today the stock is worth $150, and apparently fully priced. If you know you are going to be approached by a church, charity, college or the like for a sizeable donation within the next few months, you might consider contributing these securities before the end of the year.

By giving this property away, the organization you care to favor will benefit by receiving property which they may hold or sell, and you will establish a $150 charitable deduction for your 1957 tax return. Furthermore, you avoid paying a capital gains tax on the profit.

If you must dismiss the idea of giving away a piece of real estate or a block of stock within the next few years, don't overlook the opportunity of building up your charitable deduction by donating such "property" as used furniture, clothing, books and toys to a worthy charity. The value of these items is deductible, too.

Prepaying State Taxes

The state and local taxes which you pay are also deductible items that often can be pyramided to give a tax advantage. Some taxes that fall due early in 1958 can be prepaid to give you an additional deduction on this year's federal tax return. On the other hand, it may be to your advantage to delay payments until 1958. Be careful when you do this, however. You may incur a late payment penalty.

Farmer Tax Tactics

While businessmen and farmers can do everything that a salaried worker can do to cut their tax bills, they also have special opportunities to time year-end deductions.

A farmer, for example, who reports for tax purposes on a cash basis, can deduct his expenditures in the year paid. By purchasing his 1958 grain requirements in December, he can increase deductions on his 1957 return. If he borrows money to make this purchase, the interest paid on the loan during the year is also deductible.

A businessman, whose year-end tax plan calls for bunching deductions on this year's return, can time the sale of used equipment to establish loss deductions. For example, by selling a truck that has a depreciated value of $800 and a real market value of $500, a businessman may claim a tax credit for his $300 "loss." If he sells the truck before December 31, he can take this deduction on his 1957 return.

Last Article: Steps That Could Save A Dependency Exemption.

Drivers Lose Licenses

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 10, 1957—Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter today announced the revocation of driver's licenses of the following residents of Lake County: Manuel G. Barrers, Box 80, Prairie View, driving while intoxicated.

Chauffeur's License — Lyle D. Bandfield, USNTO, Great Lakes, driving while intoxicated.

Suspensions, Drivers' Licenses—Frances C. Bowers, 461 Saunders, Lake Forest; Albert A. Lewis, 101 Ravinoak, Highland Park; Russell W. Mears, 1017 Woodlawn, Waukegan; Lyle F. Smith, Rt. 1, Lake Zurich, all for three offenses; and Robert C. Cass, Forest Drive, Grayslake, violated restriction on license.

The Wall Street Journal reports that some South Dakota farmers living near Watertown felt they were being ticketed too relentlessly for parking meter violations when they drove into town. So when pheasant season opened they posted this sign on their farms: "No Watertown hunters allowed—you keep your meters—we'll keep our wild life."

If she feels like this at the end of a washday...

Give her a new automatic electric dryer this Christmas

Here are a few other reasons why it ought to be an Electric Dryer:

You'll like the way clothes stay clean and smell clean when they dry in an electric dryer. No fumes or products of combustion can ever mix with garments. Electric heat is clean, dry, radiant heat—just like the sun only more dependable.

And nothing dries clothes faster! Today's electric dryers will dry a big 8-lb. load of wash (like the one in the picture) in just 25 to 30 minutes. Easily keeps up with your automatic washer.

Of course, all electric dryers are fully automatic. No complicated igniting devices to get out of order or need service.

And as your electric appliance dealer will tell you, electric dryers cost less than any other type. So give your wife a lift with washday this Christmas . . . and for many years to come. Get her an automatic electric dryer.

Remember: 6¢ a load is all you pay to dry the clean electric way!

Chevrolet's radical new Turbo-

Turboglide* automatic drive form a performance team that spells action. At all speeds, under all driving conditions,
they give you the quickest, smoothest response of any-

There's never been an engine-drive combination like this one! Chevrolet's Turbo-Thrust V8* introduces a radical new slant on engine efficiency. The combustion chambers are located in the block rather than in the head, and chamber surfaces are precision machined. The result is a wonderfully smooth and even flow of power.

Turboglide*—the other half of the team—is the first and only triple-turbine automatic drive in Chevy's field. It takes you from a standstill through cruising in one continuous sweep of motion, without even a hint of a shift or lag. Harness these triple turbines to a 250-h.p. Turbo-Thrust V8—or the 280-h.p. Super instantly in any speed range. Noth-touch into action so quickly, so smoothly. Your Chevrolet dealer

ILLINOIS TAX FACTS

A legislative clinic for county officers and other persons interested in tax matters has been scheduled by the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois for Monday, January 20, at 1:30 P. M., in the Centennial Building Auditorium, Springfield. At this meeting a panel of experts will interpret legislative changes made by the 1957 General Assembly and answer questions regarding tax rate limit laws, levies, and other problems involved in computing tax bills.

Although the meeting has been set up specifically for county officers to help them in the performance of their statutory duties and to contribute to uniformity of procedure throughout the State, any local government official or businessman interested in technical tax and local government problems will be welcome, the Federation said. Maurice W. Scott, Federation Executive Secretary, will serve as moderator.

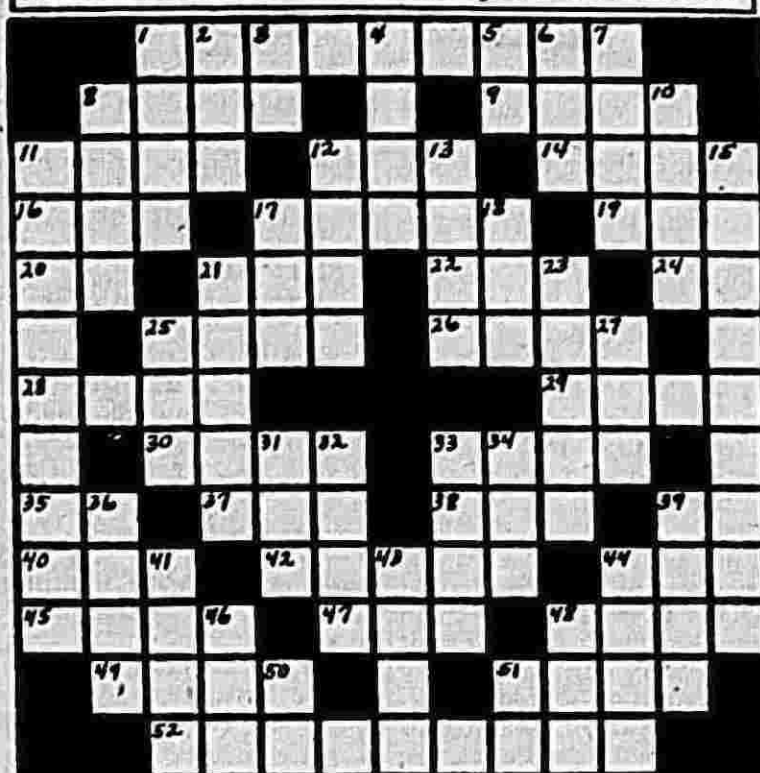

The main purpose of the meeting will be to provide a briefing and source of information for all county clerks, state's attorneys, treasurers, superintendents of schools, and other officials prior to the time when they must begin the extension of taxes within their jurisdiction. Such officials have been asked to submit questions which deal with school tax district problems, school bonds, township problems, pension questions, assessments, tax rate limitation problems, tax sale, foreclosure, and tax objection questions.

This is the fifth biennial meeting conducted by the Federation for such purposes, the first was held in 1947.

"By providing the best possible answers by top authorities to such tax questions, the home owner and the other small property taxpayers, whose stake isn't large enough to pay taxes under protest, will be protected by uniformity and correct procedures against unjustly high taxes. The demand on the part of the county and municipal officials for this meeting is greater than at any other time in the past," Scott commented.

By James Douthat
WASHINGTON—As the Administration's plans for increased defense spending are gradually revealed, the economy advocates in Congress continue to maintain vigorously that:

All unnecessary Government spending programs must be terminated immediately.

They contend that this action is essential to avoid deficit spending and to provide a sufficient surplus for essential tax reduction—to stimulate the nation's continued prosperity.

They agree wholeheartedly that every penny essential to national defense must be voted, but they assert that sufficient savings can be made in a $72 billion budget to pay for any necessary increase in defense spending.

Because of their basic position—which they have been advocating for many years—they are enthusiastically supporting the effort of the Eisenhower Administration to trim unnecessary defense and non-defense spending programs.

As a part of their activity, the economy advocates are urging a continuation of the "grass roots" campaign against waste and extravagance in Government spending which swept the nation like wildfire after the Administration's $71.8 billion spending budget was submitted to Congress last January.

Senator Byrd (D-Va.), a long time leader of the economy forces, puts it this way:

"If the missile crisis forces us to spend more in one direction, we must find ways to spend less in other directions. The communist view that we can be made to destroy ourselves fiscally and economically stands more clearly before us than ever before. We must not and shall not allow ourselves to be enslaved by our own extravagance."

"We must recognize that we have two fronts to maintain—one military and the other economic. We must be superior in both."

The Virginia Senator also does not close the door to tax reduction. Here are his views:

"I do not advocate tax reduction at the expense of a balanced budget. I do not say it is wise to cut taxes at the expense of increased expenditures in vital ballistic missile procurement for defense."

"I firmly believe a sound tax reduction would be a stimulant to business improvement."

"While I cannot say I am optimistic under present conditions, stern enough reductions in Federal expenditures could produce justification for tax reduction consideration."

"The fact is that non-essential Federal expenditures require non-essential Federal taxation."

Advocates of the Sadlak-Herlong tax-reduction bill contend that the cost in tax revenue involved should be met by the normal expansion in the economy—even if the present spending rate were continued. They also maintain that it should stimulate the nation's economy—and thus increase tax revenue while at the same time providing more products for more people to enjoy.

The measure provides for a series of annual tax cuts which, at the end of five years, would bring personal and corporation tax rates down to a maximum of 42 per cent. Cuts would be made also in all the personal income tax brackets.

It is estimated that the cost in revenue would be only $1 billion for the first year—and only $3 billion for each of the next four years. But its backers believe its contribution to the nation's economic health would be tremendous.

So, even though Vice President

Nixon believes that there will "obviously not be a tax cut" voted by the next session of Congress, supporters of the Sadlak-Herlong bill are determined to do everything possible to obtain its enactment. For they believe sincerely that passage of this legislation would be in the national interest. And, believing that way, they have ordered "full speed ahead" in their campaign for enactment of the measure.

New Licensing Procedure Under State Egg Law

The Illinois Department of Agriculture warned grocers, egg dealers and farmers to acquaint themselves with the new licensing procedure under the state egg law. Licenses are required by those who buy and sell eggs with the exception of farmers who sell only eggs produced by their own flocks; hatcheries which purchase eggs exclusively for hatching; hotels, restaurants, bakeries, ice cream manufacturers and other firms where all eggs purchased are served in the establishment or used only in the manufacture of their products; and retailers who buy eggs from licensed dealers only and sell eggs only at retail.

License fees were hiked at the request of the poultry and egg industry which asked stricter enforcement of the law as a means of upgrading the quality of Illinois eggs. A class 1 license costs $5 and includes everyone who buys eggs from the producer only and sells eggs at retail or wholesale. Class 2 licenses are $30 and cover those who also do wholesale buying.

The Illinois Department of Agriculture emphasized that farmers selling only eggs produced by their own flocks are exempt from being licensed. However, in individual cases, the farmer may find that his egg market outlets could be protected and expanded if he became a licensed dealer.

Illinois farm egg prices in 1955 were nearly seven cents a dozen below the U. S. average and cost farmers about $17½ million a year. The department's program to improve egg quality is designed to counteract this situation.

Kiplinger Says "Farm Bloc" Will Fade Away

Huntsville, Ala. — "The farm bloc," long a potent force in American politics, will be an "oddsity of the past, referred to only in history books" 25 years from now, according to Austin Kiplinger, executive editor of the Kiplinger Washington Letter.

"There will be no such thing as the 'farm states' in American politics by 1982," the Washington editor told an audience of southern business men recently. "The agricultural states will become increasingly industrialized. This process has already begun. Last year, for example, farm families received one-third, or 6.7 billion dollars of their incomes from work done away from the farm. By 1982, we predict that fully half the income of farm families will come from non-farm work, from employment in light industry, service trades, and other jobs."

"Who will produce the food? The mechanization of farms has already enabled us to produce more with fewer farm workers. This process will continue. In 25 years, American farms will produce one-third more food and fiber with 40 per cent fewer farm workers," the editor told his audience.

"The political effect of this economic change will be that the farm bloc will begin to share the viewpoint of the industrial states. We will see fewer and fewer of those classic legislative and political struggles between agricultural and industrial interests," the Washington editor said.

Sales of imported automobiles—most of them small economy types—have been rising steadily and swiftly in this country. This causes National Review to speculate: "Maybe, instead of building the Edsel, the Ford Company should have revived the flivver."

Stars don't twinkle—you do, according to the Murine Company feature service. Since there are motions of your eye and body you can't control, a pinpoint of light from a star dances over cluster after cluster of cells in your eye, thus giving a twinkling effect.
